

Konstantin Baum MW

Konstantin Baum is a German wine expert who earned the prestigious Master of Wine (MW) title in 2015, becoming, at 33 years old, the youngest person from Germany to do so.

He began his career in hospitality in Baden-Baden, worked as a sommelier in a two-star Michelin restaurant in Dublin, and studied wine business at university.

After working at London-based fine wine exchange Liv-ex, he launched his own company, Baum Selection, importing and selling wines.

Today, he runs one of the most popular wine channels on YouTube, a wine merchant and shares his knowledge through his education platform Cellar Class.
